The Practical Nurse Technician with an Emphasis in Long-Term Care certificate is intended to train individuals to provide nursing care with the competencies required of a practical nurse with studies in phlebotomy and ulcer care. In the course of their academic development, they will acquire knowledge and skills in venipuncture and management of patients with ulcers. It is about training specialist nurses who can meet the needs of a population with specific medical conditions.

Uniform is required in the classroom.

Supervised Practice:

1. You will not be able to start the internship if you have not passed the following courses: CNUR 0170 and CNUR 0180, CNUR 0251 and CNUR 0185.
2. Supervised practice that requires you to perform in a real-world work setting as part of the degree requirements.
3. You must complete 150 hours of practice.
4. These outside facilities can be state and federal agencies, hospitals, and non-governmental organizations, among others. In some cases, the governing board or agency of the profession requires the student to meet certain requirements to participate in such a practice.
5. It is the student's responsibility to stay informed of these requirements and to ensure that he/she can meet them to complete the supervised internship requirement.
6. It will be the student's responsibility to comply with the requirements of the external center to carry out their internship, so it will be the student's responsibility to comply with the requirements of the external agency and the external center to carry out their internship. Such requirements may be, depending on the practice center, doping tests, HIV tests, hepatitis immunization certificate, health certificate, negative criminal record certificate or any other that the institution or practice center requires.
7. If the student refuses or is unable to comply with any of them, he/she may be unable to carry out his/her internship and, consequently, he/she may not pass the internship course or meet the graduation requirements of his/her academic program.

Note: All students must comply with all of the requirements in the Technical Certificate Program Catalog available on the aguadilla.inter.edu website. The student's official evaluation is conducted by the Registrar's Office and the graduation fee is charged at tuition in the second semester.

Concentration courses must be passed with a minimum grade of C, and practice requires a minimum grade of B.
